MECHANICS' FAIR. - Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the weather and the many attractions elsewhere, there was a goodly number in attendance last night. To-night the colored folks take a peep at the curiosities, and we can confidently predict a jovial time.

Our enterprising tobacconists, Messrs. Mus selman & Co., make an attractive display to those who consume the weed. Their tobacco hereceived the highest praise on other occasions and we doubt not this is good.

Though we should prefer "a seat by the kitchen fire," the life seate of Mr. Thompson would undoubtedly do good service for a "man overboard." Mrs. G. Kitzero makes a beautiful exhibition of a variety of styles of embroidery that are at once delicate and highly creditable Many of our lady friends pronounce them charming. Mr. Wm. Paddon is the maker and exhibitor of that huge and those diminutive casks. As samples of cooperage they cannot well be ex-

Our sister city of Jeffersonville is represented by Messrs. Johnson & Poindexter, who contribute an assortment of tin and copper ware, scientific men engaged in railroad enterprises, is the model of Witmer's Railroad Bridge, exhibited by that accomplished engineer and draughtsman, Mr. Geo. H. Arms, who exhibits also a finely finished drawing of a locomotive engine, built at our locomotive works, as a specimen of mechanical drawing. We understand that Mr. A. will soon take charge of a class under the patronage of the Institute.

Our facetious townsmen, Messis. Skene & Co., who "make light of curious things," are on hand as usual with samples of the best lard oil made in the West. So say those who have used it for burning or lubricating purposes. We learn that these are fair samples of their stock

Mr. C. J. Kent contributes a case of musical nstruments of rare finish and beauty. We doubt not that any young man of a melancholy turn of mind, and who understood the manipulations, could win the most hard hearted damse with the tones of that beautiful flute, if played wooingly under her window on some moonlight night—that is, if she happened to be at home.

Huber, Barrett, & Co .- This firm has a case of very costiy china and glassware at the Mechanics' Institute, which reflects high credit on them. Their house is on Fourth street, between Market and Main.

Mr. B. F. Avery exhibits a machine for bending plow-handles. He is the inventor of it and has a patent for it. Mr. A. carries on a very xtensive plow factory in this city.

The large eagles carved in wood, which are distributed over the hall, were made by Mr. Michael Muckle. They are very artistically executed.

Wax Flowers .- One of the most charming of our young belles graces the exhibition with two beautiful and very perfect bouquets of wax flowers. We have rarely seen more excellent counterfeit presentments than these bijoux exhibit. They are as exquisite as the hand that ned them. We hope that Miss Ella M. er's example will find many imitators in

OUR FATHERS AND THEIR SONS. Their work was done; here and patriot saw
The fair yang flag of freedom far ontspread;
Father and son rejoiced with grateful awe, While gazing on the task work of the dead. Their highest guerdon since the triumph's done, The glorious knowledge—"Union, we are one!"

Beside the chouting waters of the sea Beside the chouting waters of the sea,
Among the vistas of the forest land,
Men printed to that badge of liberly,
As formed their children round, an eager band.
"Your fathers bled and died, but ye are free,
Preserve the gift—Union and liberty.

"What higher gift? What more sublime bequest? What name so glorious on the roll of fame! Hither all nations turn and call us blest, Secure from tyranny, uustained by shame; Thy father's hand that constellation placed, Central in heaven-let It not be disgraced!

Thus spoke the noble sire, thus heard the son; Bis check bright burning, and his eyecu fre, "Each blood bought star we do accept as one, The golden band of Union our desire; Children and children's children still chall say, That fisg of concord, none shall tear away."

Gone is the hero of the battle gro und, Gone are their sons of wisdom and of fame; Men have forgotten; some bare boldly found Their trugues could whisper trait rous words of sham "Even though the Union bleeds, divide we mant, Perish that banner-trail it in the dust.'

Audis this so? And is the birthrlight now
Less value than a mess of pottage found?
Can men supjuely gaze with tranquil brow.
While freedom's temple frembles to the ground?
Once mers revive, thon spirit of the brave,
Even from thine ashes sead one spark to save!

Ye wake, ye gallant sons of gallant sires, Already has a hallowed influence woke The thrilling fervor of your youth's pare fires, And like the phecaix into being broke. Divide and full, this is the sure decree: Freserve the right-Union and liberty LOUISVILLE, KY.

LATER FROM MEXICO .- The Havana Dairio de la Marina has intelligence from Vera Cruz to the 5th inst., and from the city of Mexico to the 27th ult.

Another attempt to overthrow the Comonfort government by a revolution was made in the capital on the 26th ult. The government was well aware of the preparations and the revolutionists were discomfeited. The government seized a small quantity of arms that the enemies had deposited in a small house in Ave Maria Lane.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river last evening was about at a stand, having risen 41 inches altogether. The telegraph reports it on a stand at Cincinnati also. The rise at Cincinnati has been 36 inches.

The reliance is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day and the Clifton is the Carroliton packet. The steamers Ella and Raven are expected mittee on Public Works.

to arrive from below to-day. The Cincinnati Commercial, of yesterday,

The river has risen fully 12 inches since our last report, and the pilots say there will not be less than 30 inches to-day on the shoalest bars to Louisville. The rise is out of the Kanawha and Big Sandy. The Virginia Belle from the Kanawha Salines, Jas. Watt from Portsmouth, and Freighter arrived yesterday. Fhe Virginia Belle left the Salines on Monday noon, on a 30-inch rise in the Kanawha, and falling. The A. W. Quarrier had arrived at Charleston and was to have left that point on Tuesday last for Cin-The Ohio was rising from the mouth of Kanawha here. Big Sandy and Kanawha, however, were both falling at last accounts.

The Pittsburg Journal, of Thursday, says: Last evening at twiiight there were 15 inches water by the metal mark, and rising slowly. Last night at quarter before 11 o'clock, the rain was pouring down in torrents. The prospect at this time is verry flattering for a suffiient rise to admit of steamboat navigation We hope to be able to announce that important event before the close of the week. From this we consider it probable that there will be another ri e at Pittsburg.

The Henry Lewis Sold .- Messrs. Eads & Nelson, of St. Louis, have sold the Henry Lewis to parties on the Missouri river, and Capt. Chas. Bell, the latter gentleman owning one-quarter of the boat and will take command.

Steamers Moses McLellon and Superior in the Mail Line .- We learn by a dispatch from Capt. Sherley, president of the Cincinnati Mail Company, that the steamers Moses McLellon and Superior, the Company's low-water packets, will resume their regular trlps on Sunday next, on which day the McLellon will leave Louisville. The Superlor is an entirely new boat, and the McLellon nearly so, this being her sec ond season. She is entirely refurnished and in complete running order.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night it commenced raining here.

DIED

The coroner held an inquest last night | on settlement, which was adopted. at a house on Third street, on the body of a newborn colored child, which was found in a barrel. The discovery was made by the finding of the after-birth in the yard. The mother is a slave. A garter was tied around the neck of the child, and the jury rendered a verdict that "its death was caused by strangulation " It has not yet been ascertained who committed the deed. The mother is confined to her bed, and the empression is that she did not kill the child.

NEGRO INSURRECTION IN ARKANSAS -We learn from the Memphis papers that there is great excitement in Union county, Ark., on ac-count of the discovery of a plot among the negroes to rise in rebellion on the 15th of this nanth. Fortunately the plot was discovered in time to prevent one of the most bloody massacres in the whole annals of insurrections. The plot was very extensive, and negroes who were taken up and made to confess, implicated others twenty miles off.

Some of the negros say the rising was to take place the day of the Precidential election. The men all being from home on that day, the plot was to murder the women and children first, and then attack the unarmed men at the polls. Several white men have been implicated, and notified to leave the county in a given time, or be hung. The letter states that on the Colorado the excitement is intense, and that several negroes have been hung. The flot seems to have been very extensive, reaching as far as Texas—St. Levis Intel Texas. - St. Louis Intel.

Bishop Onderdonk's Sentence Remitted .- Yessitting in this city, by a very decided majority, remitted the senience upon Bishop H. U Onderdonk, of this State, which suspended him from all clerical functions. This sentence was imposed twelve years ago, about the time his brother, Bishop O iderdonk, of New York, was also suspended. The members of the church and the public also are doubtless familiar with the history of these cases, and the feeling that the action of the convention produced in the church. An interval of twelve years has softened the appearing the dispersion that tened the asperition the dissentions then produced, and the remision of the sentence at this la'e period seems no more than an act of justice to an old servent of the church, who in his previous career had rendered it good service, and whose conduct since has been word of offense. The remission of his sentence will restore him to his ministerial functions, but, we presme, not to his Bishopric, which is now filled by Bishop Potter.— Phil. Ledger, 22d.

NARRATIVE OF THE EXPEDITION OF AN AMERICAN EQUADRIN TO THE CHINA SEAS AND JAPAN, performed in the Years 1852, 1853, and 1854, under the Command of Commodore M. C. Perry, United States Navy, by Order of the Government of the United States. Compiled from the Original Notes and Journals of Commodore Perry and his Officers, at his Request and under his Supervision, by Francis L. Hawks, D. D., LL. D. New York: D. Appleton & Co .- We are altogether charmed with the plan and execution of this work, and, indeed, with everything about it. It is singularly rich and fresh in material, correct and animated and graceful in style, tasteful and even elegant in form, and yet so inexpensive as to be within convenient reach of the great body of the people. In every respect, literary, scientific, political, and typographical, it reflects signal credit not alone upon those immediately concerned, but upon the country in whose service it is produced. It is beyond ail question the book of the season.

The introduction presents a rapid but comprehensive and masterly sketch of the state of our information respecting Japan previous to the sailing of the expedition. It is brimful cf interest. Nothing could be more admirable or appropriate. The Narrative itself, though simply compiled by Dr. Hawks from the abundant and varied materials furnished by the manuscript journal and official correspondence of Commodore Perry, together with the several reports of the officers under his command and the public documents connected with the Expedition, is by no means a mere mechanical digest or summary of facts, but a living and breathing story, as fascinating as a ro mance while far more scrupulously exact than the exactest history. The strange wealth of material has been selected and arranged and fused into an organic whole with such consummate skill as to suggest the impression of a the public in his modest prefatory note that he has done nothing more than present the bare incidents of the Expedition in chronological

In doing this, however, he has insensibly thrown a charm over the naked procession of events that shows him to be a most accomplished and genial annalist. In his hands the bald details of official journals and reports assume the interest and almost the air of fiction without losing a single quality or shade of fact. We should like nothing better than to go off into the green and silent country and devour this book at delicious leisure as a poet devours the "visible pomp of nature," or as whilom we devoured the enchanting adventures of Robinson Crusoe or the scarcely more real ones of Mungo Park or Marco Polo. We can but think it a most fortunate thing for Commodore Perry, as well as for the country a large, that the rare materials he gathered in the seas of "fair Cathay" have been wrought into shape by a literary artist at once so modest, so faithful, and so skillful as Dr. Hawks. The work should be read by everybody, and it doubtless will be. It is sold by Morton & Griswold.

A correspondent of the National Intelligencer, writing from Independence, says that Brigham Young has of late been making some important prophecies-auong others, that if Utah is not admitted into the Union they will set up an independent government, and the Lord will protect them in it. They have been emboldened to this by the news which was received there from the States respecting the very much exaggerated, led them to believe that the dissolution of the Union was at hand.

A Missing Casket of Jewels .- The London police are on the alert to recover the casket of jewels recently stolen from the Baroness Anselme de Rothschild. The robbery was committed at the country house of the Baroness at Frank. fort sur le Main. The jewels were in a casket (made of sandal wood of Chinese manufacture) and brown leather jewel case-the value of the contents being estimated at 100,000 floring. For the most part the jewels, from their re-markable rarity and beauty, may be easily recognized. Among them were the following: four rows of large pearls, of which three rows were of ten to twelve grain pearls, and one row of twenty to thirty grain pearls—the last alone being worth 20,000 florins; and the whole from 40,000 to 50,000 florins; a large oriental onyx, surrounded with diamonds, valued at 5,000 florins; a serpent ring, with diamond, the interior engraved, "In the memory of Hannah de Roths—thild;" four large pearl buttons, surrounded with diamonds; six bracelets of diamonds, omeralds, rubies, &c. A full description of the atolen, jewels is in the course of circulation to the highest bldder. MONUMENT TO SIR WILLIAM WALLACE. The Scottish heart is just now agitated with a movement which strongly appeals to every patrictic impulse. It is proposed to erect a monument to the indomitable hero and lion-hearted champion of Caledonia's independence - Sir William Wallace. On the last anniversary of the battle of Bannockburn, a great meeting was held near Stirling, at which measures were adopted to secure the necessary funds. The summit of the Abbey Craig, an isolated crag nearly three hundred feet above the surrounding plain, through which several silvery streams pursue their winding course, and bordered by forests and graceful eminences, has been chosen as the suitable site for the monument, commanding, as it does, one of the most extensive and picturesque views in the kingdom. Within a radius of a few miles are included the gray walls of old Stirling Castle, the battlefields of Falkirk and Brannockburn, and the scene of the Knight of Ellerlie's greatest victory over the Southron-the battle-field of Stirling Bridge. For historic interest and beauty of aspect the scene selected for the monument is unsurpas-

A SINGULAR CASE -A very singular case, says the New York correspondent of the Springfield Republican, occurred at one of the Philadelphia hotels the other day. Mr. N. A. Wheeler of Bainbridge, N. Y., stopping at the Girard House, fell asleep on Wednesday night last, and has not since awoke, though every thing has been done that could be thought of by medical men to bring him to. It is the impression of his attending physician that there is an effusion of blood in the brain. Friday evening he appeared to be fast approaching a dissolu-

THE CONVENT OF POOR CLARES, BRUSSELS. The nuns never lie down, but sleep upright. I went up a narrow, corkscrew, staircase into their cells, and saw these extraordinary beds; they consist of a hard and allost cylindrical mat'ress stuffed with straw, about three feet lorg, at right angles, to which is fixed an lorg, at right argles, to which is nace an equally hard upright paillasse, to support the back. There is no pillow, neither are there sheets, and only one small thin blanket. A basin and ewer off water stood on the ground, and the sleeping habit hung on a peg behind the door. There was no other furni ure. A small window opened on the garden, and the honeysuckle which embowered it gave something of a cheerful aspect to the denuded little dormitory. They arise at half past 4, are only allowed five minutes to wash and dress, and go down to chapel, where they pray and meditate till half past 5, when their first mass is said; this is always at a fixed hour, and is followed by one and sometimes two more.

After these they remain in chapel till half-gast 11. Their first meal, which they call dinner, is at half-past 12, and consists entirely of herbs, vegetables, rice, eggs, &c. Butter, cheese, milk, and what they call lait battu they also eat, but not at maigre seasons. Their second and last meal is at 7, and consists of dry bread and the biere du pays. The sisters do everything for themselves-washing, mending, sweeping, scouring, &c The rule of the lay sisters is slightly less severe in every particular, but even this is ascetic enough to startle most secular persons. The sister who showed us the mysteries of the house was a very pleasant, amiable locking woman of about 35. She had a peculiarly caim, holy expression of countenance, and expressed herself perfectly happy in the life of which she had made choice, now about 15 years since.

seems they are removed from house to house to Karsas d fficulties, which, coming as it did prevent too great an attachment to one locality. She and another lay sister were sent, time ago, on a mission to England, and this was another considerable grievance to her; but she said she kept her trouble to herself, and accepted it as one of the acts of submission to the will of her superior to which her rule bound her. The first night they arrived in London, when they put up at the hotel, they were shown into a room where the beds were, of course, horizontal. This was a difficulty which had not occurred to them, and they made up their minds to adopt the same position as the rest of the world; but no sooner had they tried it than they found it impossible to sleep; accordingly they relinquished the attempt, and took the mattress on the bedstead, placed it half upright against the wall, and had reason to be perfectly satisfied with their ingenious expedient.

> IMPORTANT TRIAL.—Congregation for Political Preaching Decided not to be a Religious Meeting .. - At a recent Methodist meeting in one of the towns in Erie county, in this State, the preacher undertook to instruct his hearers in their duty in the coming election. He denounced the present National Administration of the general government, as well as the Demosas, and Fremont. One of his hearers, an American, being somewhat excited, exclaimed: "Old fellow, I will bet you ten to five dollars there are more Fillmore men present than there are of the Negro Worshippers." The offer was declined by the preacher, and the person making the offer was complained of, under the Statute, for disturbing a religious meeting. The facts being submitted to a jury, they decided that the meeting was not a religious, but a political meeting, and the Fillmore man was discharged.—Albany Atlas.

The most "curious" thing about this to us is the Professor's "remark." If "vulgar credulity" is "much the same all the world over," what could possibly be more natural than that "it should arrive at almost precisely the same results?" It would be curious if it

THE DISASTER TO THE CONNECTICUT -The Boston Chronicle gives the following interesting particulars concerning the disaster to the steamer Connecticut on Friday night, derived from an eve-witness:

The life-preservers, such as they were, were in the various cabins and state-rooms. The rush for them was awfully frantic. The panels of the state-room doors were stove in instantly, and one gentleman, in his frenzy, performed the same operation on one of the large and expensive mirrors in the saloon. Many of the life preservers were entirely worthless, not being able to hold air. To make up this fau t, one man was seen standing ready for a plunge with four of the leaky appendages attached to his

In the search for life preservers in the gentlemen's cabin, one gentleman was found asleep and roused, 'What shall I do?' said he. 'Get a life preserver on as soon as possible,' was the reply. Not being able to find one, or his clothing, he rushed on deck with a sheet around him, and began to call out, 'For God's sake bring me

Another man was so terrified that the perspiration rolled from his face and saturated his clothing. A fellow-passenger offered him a glass of brandy, but he was too much paralyz-ed to swallow it. Numbers of stout young men were rushing about in an agony of despair; others were praying loudly.

A company of Irish emigrants were shrick-ing like wild animals. One lady, who supposed that her dress would embarrass her in water, before putting on her life-preserver, stripped herself down to her hooped skir; which she retained as likely to add to her buoycomplete and finished reproduction in the spirit they have yielded to the pressure of the times perfectly cool and collected. > NEW VOTERS IN THE FIELD-The Way Citi zens are Made-Nearly Fifteen Thousand For-eigners Naturalized in this City.—During the past six weeks the Superior and Common Pleas courts have been engaged in the duty of increasing the number of citizens of the great republic, and in lessening, in the same proportion, the subjects of foreign princes, potentales, and powers The work commences about 10 o'clock every morning, and continues without cessation till 3 or 4 in the afternoon, and between those hours the interior and exterior of the City Hall presents an unusually an mated and lively ap-The eagerness with which the aspiring foreigners crowd about the entrances of the two courts requires the presence of a con Siderable force of policemen, who find it a difficult matter to repress their arder and impatience, and to prevent them from rushing unin-vited and unbidden into the presence of the judges themseives. For six long weeks have the courts empowered with the authority for naturalization been besieged in this way, and during that time about fifteen thousand of our foreign-born population have been admitted to the privileges of citizenship. They come from Poughkeepsie and other places along the North river, and Long Island has contributed a large number, in addition to the dwelters in New York, who form the great majority of the applicants. A few—and they are very few apply of their own accord, but the great bulk are recruited by the Naturalization Committees of Tammany Hall and the Republican Central Club. The former have taken the Irish under their special care, while the Germans, whose The discipline they observe, she sald, was bon pour l'ame et bon pour le corps aussi. It seems they are removed for the latter. consideration, it is generally understood, of the votes which their candidates are expected to receive in return. Now, as each fee amounts to fifty cents, and as there have been about fifteen thousand naturalized, the whole amount paid must be over seven thousand dollars.

The greater part of this has been paid, it is said, by the Democratic committee, who have made five citizens to every three presented by the Republicans. In the first week or two the German applicants preponderated, but they have since been left in the minority by the constantly increasing majority of the Irish. Th number naturalized in the Court of Common Pleas and the Superior Court exceeds four hundred per day; during the last two days over three hundred applicants received their papers in our Court of Common Pleas alone.

The scenes that take place during the pro cess of naturalization are sometimes of a rather amusing character. Some time ago the following occurrence took place in one of our courts: Among the crowd of applicants was an Irishman named O'Brien, who, in his own expressive words, was "wanting his papers." He was a short, thick-set man, and looked as if he could handle a shillelagh in true Hibernian style. His witness was a tall, raw-boned son of Erin, who, on being placed before the Judge, was interrogated and answered as follows:

Judge-What is your name, sin? Witness-Patrick O'Dennis, your Honor. Judge-Do you know O'Brien? Witness-Yes, sir.

Judge-How long has he been in this coun Witness—A little over five years,

Judge—Is he a man of good moral charac Witness (quite bewildered)-Sure, your Honor, I don't know what moral character

Judge-Well, sir, I will talk more plainly to ou. Does O'Brien stand fair before the community?

Judge (rather irritated) —I mean to ask you, sir, if O'Brien, the person who wants to be a citizen, and for whom you are a witness, is a Witness—Ohl why didn't you ax me that way before? To be sure, he is a good man. Sure, and I've seen him in ten fights during the days before the election. It is calculated that days before the rection. It is calculated that during the four days which yet remain there will be between four and five thousand added to the number of new ly made citizens, making a total of about twenty thousand since the first of September.

One of the London papers, alluding to the Merrimac, says:

The American steam frigate Merrimac now lying off Southampton, has created a sen sation in this country—we would hot be far wrong in saying that in certain quarters she has produced a panic The aristocracy and flunkey-hood of England had no idea that the Republic could produce anything half so for al-dable as this truly magnificent vessel. The Merrimac is but one of a series which the American Government is now building, and, though only a frigate, she is admitted to be a match for any one of our ships of the line. There is not a navy in Europe which has a vessel that can compete with her.

THE SUGAR CROP .- The coming crop will doubtless be the shortest, in proportion to the extent of ground cultivated, that has occurred since 1835, when the yield was estimated at 30,000 hogsheads. There has been a gradual changing, for some years past, from the sugar culture to that of cotton, for we find by Mr. Champomiers's statement, that while in 1852 there were 1,481 sugar houses, in 1855 the number had been reduced to 1.299, showing a decrease in three years of 182. We also know that there has been a further material decrease this year, but the great falling off in the crop is referable to the damage from the remarkable continuance of cold and wet weather during the past winter, by which the rattoons or stub-bles were almost entirely destroyed, as well as much of the plant cane, before or after planting. Under these circumstances some planters plowed up their fields and planted corn or cotton, or both, and will have no cane. Others will perhaps make enough to replant for ar other crop, while some having light soil or well-drained lands, and having been favored by seasonable showers, may approach a fair average. These will have an excess of cane beyond their requirement for re-planting, but whether they will sell from their excess to those wanting plants, instead of making sugar, and to what extent, we have no means of estimating. At all events the crop must be a short oneless the shortest since 1843-as the extreme estimate named is 125,000 hogsheads, while some mark as low as 30,000 hogsheads, an amount altogether insufficient for the requirements of the West alone, and calling for a large import of foreign sugars. In accounting for the decline in the production for years pa is probable that it may be in some dagree (possibly a very important one) attributable to the deterioration of the plant from the partial exhaustion of the peculiar qualities of the soil necessary for its sustenance. Should this be the case, it would be well for planters to supply the deficiency, by the application of the proper manure ... Hunt's Magazine.

LATEST NEWS.

BAROMETER. Last night, 12 o'clock | To day, 12 c'clock. 29 53 29 57.

RCBBERIES .- Our citizens cannot be too watchful. Within the last two weeks not less than six residences have been robbed of silverware and plate. The operations of the thieves seem to be confined mostly to the retired parts of the city. The last robberies that have come to our knowledge were at Dr. Murphy's and Mr. Thorne's residences on the corner of Broadway and Floyd streets. Dr. Murphy, who is absent, was robbed of a lot of silver spoons and preserves, and Mr. Thorne lost also a quantity of plate and his wallet, containing fifty-four dollars, which was taken from his coat pocket.

The "hop" at the Louisville Hotel last night, was attended by the elite and fashion of the city. The company was very large, the supper was splendid, and dancing was kept up till 4 o'clock. Altogether it was one of the most magnificent parties ever given in this

We neglected yesterday to thank Mr. Kirkpatrick, the chief of police, for a package of late New Orleans papers from the steame: St. Charles. Mr. K, as we have already mentioned, took a negro thief to Memphis who was arrested here some time ago.

Mr. Louis Schroeder, son of our fellowcitizen J. H. Schroeder, Esq., was a passenger in the steamship Hermann, which arrived at New York on Friday from Bremen. Young Schroeder has been traveling over the continent of Europe during the last three months, and in his letters which we have been permitted to see gives very graphic descriptions.
